Today, immediately after mass, for God and the good of our souls, we will expose the Blessed Sacrament, chant the Litany of the Sacred Heart (TRH #207) and recite the Act of Reparation to the Sacred Heart of Jesus (handout). I hope you stay! and He would like that too!

Thank you for your prayers for Fr Hathaway while he attended his week-long retreat in Lincoln, NE. Please know, he remembered you too!

Did you lose a ring last month at ICC?: call Greg Thomas at 391-5727.

There is a mysterious connection between these three feasts: The Blessed Trinity, Corpus Christi, and The Sacred Heart. The aim of the Holy Ghost in all three is to initiate us more and more into that knowledge of God by Faith, which is to fit us for the face-to-face vision in heaven. In the first, we see how God is made known to us; in the second, we see how God manifests Himself to us in His outward works - for the Holy Eucharist is the memorial, here below, in which He has brought together, and with all possible perfection, all His wondrous works. But by what law can we pass so rapidly, almost so abruptly, from one feast, which directly regards God, to another, which celebrates the works done by Him to and for us? Then again, how came the divine thought, the eternal Wisdom, from the infinite repose of the eternally Blessed Trinity, to the external activity of a love for us poor creatures, which has produced what we call the mysteries of our redemption? The Heart of the Man-God is the solution to these difficulties; it answers all such questions, and explains to us the whole divine plan.

ON THE GOSPEL

The Evangelist has expressed himself cautiously; not struck, not wounded, but opened His side (latus eius aperuit): whereby was opened the gate of life, from whence the sacraments of the Church flowed, without which we cannot enter into that life which is the true life... This it was which was prefigured when Noah was commanded to make a door in the ark, by which the animals that were not to perish by the deluge entered; which animals prefigured the Church. To shadow forth this, the woman was made from the side of the sleeping man; for this second Adam bowed His head, and slept on the cross, that out of that which came there from, there might be formed a wife for Him. O Death, by which the dead are quickened, what can be purer than that Blood, what more salutary than that Wound!
