Listening to God

It is true that the voice of God, having once penetrated the heart, becomes strong as the tempest and loud as thunder. But before reaching the heart, it is as weak as a light breath that scarcely agitates the air. It shrinks from noise and is silent amid agitation.

~ St. Ignatius Loyola

When it's God who is speaking... the proper way to behave is to imitate someone who has an irresistible curiosity and who listens at keyholes. You must listen to everything God says at the keyhole of your heart. ~ St. John Vianney

ON THE GOSPEL

There was a certain rich man who had a steward...

There is a certain erroneous opinion inborn in the mortal men that increases evil doing and lessens good. It is the belief that whatever comes into our possession in this life we possess it as masters of it: and so when the chance arises, we seize these things as ours by a special right. The contrary is true. For we are not placed in this life as lords in our own houses, but as guests and strangers, brought hither whether we would or would not, and at a time not of our choosing. He who is rich in a moment is a beggar. Therefore, whoever you may be, know that you are but an administrator (dispensator) of things which belong to Another, and that upon you has been bestowed but the right of their brief and passing use. Cast then aside from your soul the pride of dominion, and put on instead the modesty and humility of a steward.

~ St. John Chrysostom
